Villa de Firgas
...village of water

Action financed by Ministry for Employment and Solidarity of the Excmo. Cabildo Insular de Gran Canaria, within 2012 grants announcement for Promotion of Local Development.

The Villa de Firgas, as well known as village of water, is a small municipality in the north of Gran Canaria. It is a place where the landscape and nature captivate you, where the history, traditions and customs remain in the own town and their people, where you can enjoy the exquisite gastronomy. A place of feelings, that when you discover it, you fall in love.

It is approximately situated 28 kilometers from the island's capital, it has a surface area of 15.77 km² and is at an altitude of 465 meters above sea level.

The historic center of the town deserves a walk to appreciate the different places of interest located in it:

We recommend a visit to:

- The Paseo de Gran Canaria and the Paseo de Canarias.
- The building of the Culture House.
- Square and Parish Church of San Roque.
- Recovery of the Irrigation Channel.
- Firgas Water Mill.

Part of the municipality is inside the Doramas Natural Park (protected landscape), that's the reason why it offers ravines of great beauty with exuberant vegetation and the abundance of small tributaries which provide water to the municipality's land.

Come and discover it!
